

Generation of the Game Card to be used at the match

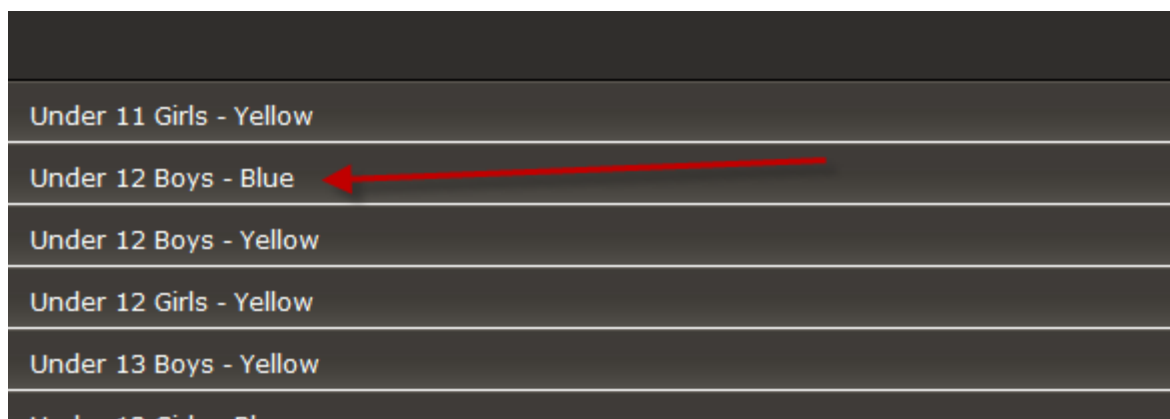

After you have gone to the pre-match report and set your line-up for the match, the next step will be to generate your game card. The game card will contain information specific to the game. It will contain the game number, the game location, the date and time. It will also show the name of the coach and manager of the team. At this time, it will only show two adults along with the roster. Any player that you designated as ineligible on the pre-match report will be stuck out on the game card.

YOU NEED TO KNOW THE GAME NUMBER THAT YOU ARE PRINTING A GAME CARD FOR!

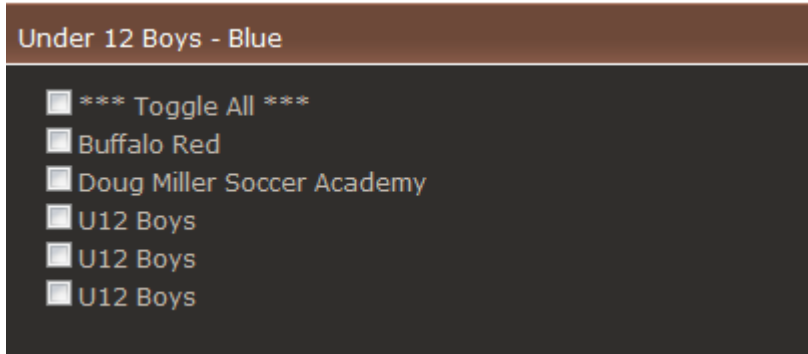

To generate your game card, from your team page, click the game card link:

On the window that opens, you will see a list of each division of teams in the league. Find your division and click on the title.

When you click the division name, the next window shows the teams in the division. Check the box next to your team name. (I'm working to make the displayed names make more sense)

After you check your team name, scroll to the bottom of the page. Select 'Standard', then scroll down further.
